

A CARING PLACE FOR SENIORS

“Lord, make me to know my end and what is the extent of my days.” (Ps. 39:4)

There are some 250 passages in the Bible about old age.

Seniors demonstrate more than anyone else that fight for life. Death may be the last enemy, but it is still the enemy nevertheless.

1- Living as a senior in the present has unique concerns.

2- Being a senior brings deeper considerations about life.

3- Meeting the realities of aging requires extra-special attention.

4- Facing the future as a senior focuses on the hope of resurrection.

“Only one life will soon be past—only what’s done for Christ will last.”
